

SWOSU Opens Mind Games Competition

10.20.2014

SWOSU, two-time defending grand champion of the Mind Games academic competition involving all universities and colleges in Oklahoma, will have two teams competing in 2014-15. Members of the squads are (Blue Team) Mandi Foutch, Seiling; Jordan Sage, Binger; Ashley DeVaughan, Fort Cobb; and Montgomery Long, Marlow.

(White Team) Maddie Moss, Holdenville; Zeke Mills, Springfield (MO); and John Foley, Tuttle.

One of Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Mind Games teams will open the 2014-15 season this Sunday, October 26.

The SWOSU "Blue" team will play East Central University at 5:30 p.m. on KSBI-TV in Oklahoma City.

SWOSU, two-time defending grand champion of the academic competition involving all universities and colleges in Oklahoma, will have two teams in the competition. The "White" team opens play the following Sunday, November 2, at 5:30 p.m. against Southeastern Oklahoma State University.

Members of the SWOSU Blue team are: Ashley DeVaughan, Fort Cobb; Mandi Foutch, Seiling; Jordan Sage, Binger; and Montgomery Long, Marlow.

Members of the SWOSU White team are: Zeke Mills, Springfield (MO); John Foley, Tuttle; and Maddie Moss, Holdenville.

Both squads are coached by Dr. Fred Gates, professor of history at SWOSU. The students compete for scholarship money provided by The Chickasaw Nation and Oklahoma Energy Resources Board.