

Fan Jam Tonight

10.28.2010

The popular event, now in its 12th year, showcases the SWOSU men's and women's basketball teams in a variety of events and contests.

WEATHERFORD, Okla. – The wild and rowdy celebration that signals the beginning of Southwestern Oklahoma State University's basketball season will take place Thursday, Oct. 28. when hundreds are expected to squeeze inside Rankin William Fieldhouse for Fan Jam. Start time is at 7 p.m. and doors open at 6:30 p.m.

The popular event, now in its 12th year, showcases the SWOSU men's and women's basketball teams in a variety of events and contests. Some of which will include a three-point shooting game and a dunk contest with university faculty and administrators serving as honorary judges.

As always, the popular Fan Jam T-shirts and dozens of other prizes and items will be given away to an eager and appreciative crowd.

Special performances will also be given by the SWOSU Cheerleading and Pom Pon squads. In addition, the SWOSU "Wild Dawg" Pep Band will perform a few selected numbers and the SWOSU Drum Line returns again after wowing last year's crowd with a lengthy and loud percussion jam.

At the event's conclusion, four randomly drawn contestants will have an opportunity to win a $500 scholarship courtesy of the SWOSU Foundation if they successfully make a half-court shot.
