

OSA State Conference at SWOSU on Nov. 10

11.07.2006

The Oklahoma Sociological Association is having its state conference this Friday, November 10, on the Southwestern Oklahoma State University campus in Weatherford.

Donna Barlow, assistant professor of criminal justice/sociology at SWOSU, is the current OSA president. This is the first time for SWOSU to host the conference.

Around 100 students and professors from around the state of Oklahoma will attend the conference, which is being planned and coordinated by Barlow.
