Southwestern Oklahoma State University's College of Pharmacy will host its annual Interview Day on Thursday, October 27, on the Weatherford campus.

Around 15 pharmaceutical companies will interview pharmacy students for positions across the nation. The sessions will be held from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom. All SWOSU pharmacy students are involved in the interviews, according to Kaye Abramson of the college.

SWOSU is one of two pharmacy colleges in the state of Oklahoma. SWOSU's college was founded in 1939 and graduated its first class in 1941. There are more than 5,000 alumni of the SWOSU College of Pharmacy.
