

Old Masters Exhibition Reception Set Tuesday in Clinton

11.08.2010

The Southwestern Oklahoma State University life drawing class will present the "Old Masters Exhibition" at the Frisco Center in Clinton during the months of November and December.

An opening reception will be held this Tuesday, November 9, from 1-3 p.m. at the Frisco Center, located at 101 S. 4th Street in Clinton. Admission is free, and the public is invited.

The SWOSU art students' works illustrate their take on drawings by old masters such as Raphael, Michelangelo and Rubens. The finished pieces range in size anywhere from 3 x 3 feet to 4 x 6 feet. A variety of mediums were used including charcoal, graphite and chalk pastels.

Class instructor E.K. Jeong said she is proud of her students and thankful to the Frisco Center and the SWOSU Art Department for their support and willingness to be a part of the project.