

Scholastic Book Fair Taking Place Through Thursday at SWOSU

11.04.2014

Southwestern Oklahoma State University's Department of Education (DOE) is hosting a Scholastic Book Fair on the first floor of the Education Building through Thursday afternoon.

All proceeds are used by the DOE to provide scholastic book vouchers to Oklahoma City Public Schools and other metro locations that host SWOSU students for field trips in Principles of Teaching and Contemporary Issues classes, according to DOE Chair Dr. Ruth Boyd.

Guests can make purchases with cash, check or credit card. Books range in reading level from preschool to young adult.

"This is a great opportunity to build your professional library or simply to purchase Christmas gifts," Boyd said.
