

Pharmacy Students Represent SWOSU at NCPA Convention

11.05.2013

These six Southwestern Oklahoma State University students are involved in the National Community Pharmacists Association chapter on the Weatherford campus and recently attended the NCPA national convention in Orlando (FL). The convention offers pharmacy students that are interested in independent pharmacy the opportunity to network with individuals across the nation. Representing SWOSU were (from left): Paul Won, Tulsa; Rekha Patel, Edmond; Samantha Caudle, Stillwater; Kelly Cornell, Clinton, Emily Selby, Denton (TX); and Lucas Coody, Waurika.
