Miss SWOSU 2008 Bobbi Poff

Miss SWOSU Scholarship Pageant officials and the current Miss SWOSU, Bobbi Poff, are available to provide programs for area clubs and organizations.

Debbie Brown, director of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University pageant in Weatherford, said board members are available to present brief educational programs on the pageant system.

Poff, who won her title in November, is available to provide entertainment at club and professional meetings. The Elk City junior is majoring in speech communication at SWOSU, and her platform issue is "Smoking Stinks."

Poff will represent SWOSU at next summer's Miss Oklahoma Pageant.

The SWOSU pageant is an affiliate of the Miss Oklahoma/Miss America Scholarship Pageants. This year's pageant is set for October 25.
