

Falalala Follies Planned December 4 at SWOSU

11.21.2014

Falalala Follies, a student talent show at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, is being planned for Thursday, December 4, and the sponsoring Student Government Association is seeking students who would like to participate.

Makenzy Hamon, special projects chair for SGA, said this will be an opportunity for area residents and students to participate in a "Coats for Kids" drive at the winter talent show. Any winter clothing article is welcome and will be donated to a needy child in western Oklahoma.

The talent show will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center on the Weatherford campus. Admission is free.

Hamon said any and all talent is welcome to perform. Contact Hamon at hamonm@student.swosu.edu for additional details.