11.29.2007

Two Southwestern Oklahoma State University pharmacy fraternities are hosting their annual football game to raise funds for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, founded by Danny Thomas.

The game between Phi Delta Chi and Kappa Psi is planned this Saturday, December 1, at 1 p.m. at Milam Stadium on the SWOSU campus in Weatherford.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has donated items to be sold in a silent auction, including a Liz Claiborne handbag, t-shirts, men's ties and holiday ornaments.

All donations may be given at the game or to any Phi Delta Chi or Kappa Psi member.
