Earthquake

by James Valvis

An explosion and then the floor shakes like jelly while your one-year-old daughter sits on the rocking chair across the house in her bedroom you weave with books falling one hand on your head an idiotic umbrella and then you're into the hallway pushing open the door the bedroom expanding, rolling your daughter riding the rocking chair like a bucking bull machine and it's only when you grab her that she starts to scream as if the real danger in the world is the fear in your eyes
