Life Insurance Not Necessary for Federal Guaranteed Student Loans

Students and their parents do not need to purchase life insurance in order to qualify for a Guaranteed Student Loan, according to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education.

Numerous inquiries to the Regents have been made concerning a sales technique apparently in wide use throughout the state; apparently, students are being told that the purchase of a life insurance policy will guarantee them a student loan when they attend college.

The eligibility for federal guaranteed student loans is determined on the basis of a student's family income, financial need, and other criteria that have nothing to do with buying life insurance or opening savings accounts, Regents' officials said.

No life insurance purchase will guarantee eligibility for students, said Dr. Larry Nutter, the Regents' Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, under whose direction the student loan programs are operated.

Nutter cautioned students and their parents to be very careful in dealing with insurance companies claiming to be lenders participating in the government-sponsored loan program. While such companies may indeed be lenders under the federal program, they cannot change the rules of student eligibility, he said. And claims to guaranteed access to a student loan should be closely examined to determine if the loan will be made available to the student regardless of any cutbacks in the program by the federal government.

The Reagan administration has proposed sizeable reductions in the guaranteed student loan program, restricting the loans by family income ceilings and by the total amount students may borrow. Further, if the administration's plan is implemented, the federal subsidy that pays the interest as long as the student is in school, would be reduced, Nutter said.

While Congress may not go along completely with the president's proposal, any guarantee offered by an insurance company should include such possibilities, he said.

Nutter told the Regents that the insurance sales are being presented to high school as well as college students and their parents.

Although similar offers in Texas have been investigated by federal officials who determined that they were not illegal, such sales techniques are misleading, Nutter declared.

"If a student qualifies for a student loan, he or she can receive the loan regardless of whether he or she purchases any life insurance," Nutter said, "and no amount of life insurance will guarantee a student a loan if they are not otherwise qualified under state and federal regulations."

If parents or students have questions about the student loan program, they should contact the financial aid office at any college or university campus, Nutter said, or contact the State Regents' office in Oklahoma City.

tional Tournament, held this year in Phoenix, Arizona, May 28-31. Walcher is a four-year letterman for the Southwestern golf team, the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference Champions for all of those four years. During his tenure at Southwestern, Walcher has been on the all-OIC team for three years; the all-NAIA District Nine team for three years; been the District Nine "Player of the Year" for two years; the OIC Medalist three years; the District Nine Medalist one year, and the Crossroads of America Tournament, Joplin, Missouri, Medalist for two years.

"This young man is an outstanding golfer," says Golf Coach Cecil Perkins.

Walcher, who is the son of Ernie and Ellen Walcher, Woodward, is an accounting major at Southwestern and has been nominated to the NAIA National Academic All-American Golf Team.

Upon graduation from Southwestern, Walcher plans to "turn pro" and will travel to Florida to participate in the "Florida Mini-Tour," a training experience for young golfers.

ROCKY WALCHER, the NAIA District Nine "Player of the Year," is congratulated by Southwestern Athletic Director and Golf Coach Cecil Perkins. Walcher participated in the NAIA National Golf Tournament in Phoenix, Arizona, May 28-31.

SWOSU Rodeo Teams to National Finals on June 17

As the gates rise on the 1985 Intercollegiate National Finals Rodeo in Bozeman, Montana, on June 17, all eyes will be on the three young ladies who, together, form the Southwestern Oklahoma State University women's rodeo team--a team that finished its season as the #1 Women's Rodeo Team in the nation.

SENIORS KERRI BEAMAN (above) and Sam Willis (below) will be among those competing in the College National Finals Rodeo from Southwestern.

The final standings, recently announced by the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, has Southwestern with 1555.91 points, leading the University of Arizona with 1503.83, and Southern Arkansas University with 1499.

Coach Don Mitchell was pleased with the final rating, although he adds that "these rankings give us no edge at all for the National Title--all teams start from scratch at the National Finals." Mitchell also mentioned that he felt that his women's team was among the top three in the nation.

All three of the Southwestern team members were mentioned in the Final Standings: Kerri Beaman, senior from Bennett, Colorado, was listed third in the Breakaway Roping event, ninth in the Barrell Racing event, and eighth for the All-Around Cowgirl title; Charlottia Noble, junior from Yale, listed as tenth in the Breakaway Roping event, and Stacey Williamson, sophomore from Byars, listed as sixth in the Goat Tying event.

Joining the threesome at the National Finals will be the Southwestern men's team who, like the women, won their berth to the Finals by placing first in their Central Plains Rodeo region. Participating on the men's team will be Sam Willis, senior from Redmon, Oregon, who placed seventh in the final National Standings for the Saddlebrone Riding; Justin Lankford, Oklahoma City; Bryan Wright, Arlington, Texas; Marty Musil, Guthrie; Todd Crase, Winterset, Iowa, and Scott English, Hermiston, Oregon.

The 1985 Intercollegiate National Finals Rodeo, held on the campus of Montana State University in Bozeman, Montana, features the top two teams from each of the 12 rodeo regions, as well as the top two places in each event.

Loftin Signs Renvy Evans

John Loftin, coach of the Southwestern Oklahoma State University Lady Bulldogs, the 1985 NAIA National Championship women's basketball team, has announced that Renvy Evans, a transfer from Western Texas Junior College, has signed an NAIA Letter of Intent to play basketball for Southwestern.

Evans, a 6-0 forward/post, averaged some 10 points and 10 rebounds a game while at Western, a team that was State semifinalists in 1985. She is a graduate of Greenwood High in Midland, TX, where she was All-District for three years and a second team All-Stater. Evans, aside from her athletic ability, is a 4.0 honors student.

"We are very pleased to have someone as talented as Renvy Evans join our team," Coach Loftin mentioned. "She has outstanding playing ability and is an excellent student."
