Alumni Return Home

Two young men who hold degrees from SWOSU and have ties with the city of Weatherford have returned to their alma mater this fall as faculty and staff members.

Paul Nail is a new instructor in the School of Education Psychology Department, and Kenneth Douglas Brown has been appointed the university's career information officer. A 1970 graduate of Weatherford High School, Nail earned three degrees from Southwestern—bachelor of science in elementary education, master of science in applied psychology and master of education in chemistry.

He is nearing completion of work toward a doctoral degree in experimental psychology at Texas Christian University.

Nail was active in the band

and on the tennis team while attending Southwestern, and had been a member of Weatherford High School's state championship tennis teams of 1969 and 1970.

After receiving his bachelor's degree he taught fourth grade in the Mustang public schools before returning to SWOSU for graduate study.

Nail's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. T. (Spike) Nail, 515 N. Arizona, and he is married to the former Jennifer Ellinger of Weatherford.

Brown also attended the Weatherford public schools but graduated from Norman High School in 1974. He was awarded the bachelor of arts degree, with a major in sociology, by SWOSU in 1978.

While at the university he was an outstanding offensive end on the Bulldog football team, winning a place on the All-Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference squads of 1976 and 1977, as well as being on the baseball team. He was an OIC Scholar Athlete finalist in 1977-78, and during the same academic year served on the Student Senate and as secretary-treasurer of the O Club.

Since 1978 Brown had been employed by the Oklahoma Department of Human Services as a social worker.

His wife is the former Renee Decker of Custer City, also a Southwestern graduate and a teacher in Thomas. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bob Brown, 1712 Ridgeway. Dr. Brown is dean of the SWOSU Graduate School.

Total Enrollment 4,800; Women Outnumber Men

Women far outnumber male students this fall on the Southwestern campus, according to released figures that show a total enrollment of an estimated 4,800.

Registrar Bill Wilmethe reported that there are 2,675 women and 2,125 men signed up for classes.

It is most unusual for enrollment numbers to total up like this, but these are accurate," Wilmethe explained.

A year ago, in the fall of 1979, Southwestern's student enrollment count was 4,718.

Of even more importance, however, because of state funding cuts, is the gain this semester over last fall in the time equivalent number (TEF). This is determined by dividing the total credit hours in which all students are enrolled. The undergraduate hours are divided by 15 and graduate hours by 12.

The FTE stands at 4,238, an increase of 30 from the fall 1979 figure of 4,208.

Breaking down the statistics even further, Southwestern has 4,096 undergraduate and 704 graduate students, with respective FTE's of 3,923 and 315.

By classifications, the totals (with the female counts listed first, followed by the numbers of males) are:

Freshmen, 1,612 (900 females and 712 males); sophomores, 905 (490 and 415); juniors, 693 (364 and 329); seniors, 857 (447 and 410); special, or those not pursuing degrees, 29 (23 and 6); graduate, 704 (451 and 253).

Senate Officers Elected; Voter Turnout Lukewarm

By KATHY PENNER

Votes were cast recently for a new group of Student Senate officers and individual class officers. Though voter turnout was lukewarm, the competition was stiff. So stiff, in fact, that there had to be runoff election between sophomore class president candidates Don Saunders and Rickey Mathis and between freshman senator candidates Liz DeWald and Johnna Southwell.

After the final vote, the class president winners are: senior, O'Dellas Murrell; junior, Clay

Scott; sophomore, Rickey Mathis; freshman, Ken Provine. Some of the duties of these new officers will be to fill vacancies in the Senate and to attend the weekly meetings of the Student Senate in which there will be many committees needing their help.

The senatorial race was an easy one for everyone except the freshman class. All those who turned in petitions in the other three classes were automatically senators because all of the openings were not filled.

Heat Wave Exhausting For Some SWOSU Students

By SUE ANN STONE

As many of us are well aware, this past summer's heat wave was exhausting and torturous. Some people changed their life style to keep comfortable during the summer's 100 degree temperatures.

Here are students' reactions to the effect the heat wave has had on them:

"It made me hot, made me want to get home to the air conditioner. Once I got used to it though, it didn't bother me."—Richie Schueler, Sand Springs sophomore.

"I didn't get out as much as I usually do. I didn't go to the lake as much, and my yard and garden died."—Traci Villines, Hydro sophomore.

"I didn't do much. The dorm air-conditioner wasn't working and made it terribly hot. It was hard to go to class, because you wanted to go to the lake all the time."—Aleta Leggett, Cordell senior.

"I worked as a custom hay bailer. Luckily I had a cab tracker until the heat burnt up all the hay. So, I spent most of my time fixing fences and working cattle. I didn't get any days off to enjoy it at the lake."—Mike Walker, Chisholm junior.

"I went to summer school and since the air conditioning wasn't working it was a lot of fun, but the heat really doesn't bother me at all, so, it wasn't too bad."—Diane Williams, Okarche junior.

Forensics Begins

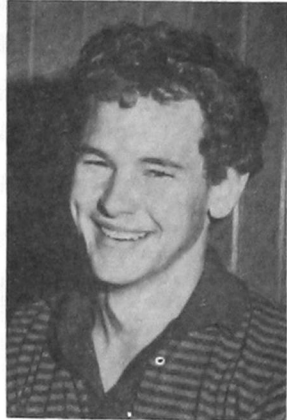

The Language Arts-sponsored Forensic program (upstart that it is) is starting up this fall and should be in full swing by the middle of this semester.

Anyone interested in debate, extemporaneous speaking, oral interpretation of drama and poetry, and oratory may attend meetings each Thursday at 3 p. m. starting this Thursday, Sept. 18, in Room 102 of the Old Science Building.

Director of Forensics is George Hejna who urges everyone who may be interested to show up at the first meeting at which time scholarships will be

If there is such a thing as a cheerful, light-hearted look at having ten children in twelve years, I SHOULD HAVE SEEN IT COMING WHEN THE RABBIT DIED by Teresa Bloomingtondale is it.

This delightfully easy-to-read book deals with the life of author-mother-wife Bloomingtondale from the time the first rabbit dies by jumping off a table in the test lab and killing itself (what foreshadowing!) until the present when all of her ten children are in school.

Mrs. Bloomingtondale's life, as she sees it, revolves around her children, her husband and her sanity. The latter she has maintained through the years by keeping a well-groomed sense of humor and an almost idealistic faith in the future generation.

Everything from having to call in the FBI to find her waist after ten pregnancies to having four toddlers rushed to the emergency room after playing doctor is covered in this humorous look at motherhood. The traumas are covered and handled in a way that tests her faith and courage as well as her ever present sense of humor.

Full of good country and western music, "Honeysuckle Rose" brings Willie Nelson to the screen as Buck Bonham, a rising star on the concert circuit.

Leaving his family behind, Bonham travels extensively playing concerts around the country. However he does drop in occasionally to "visit" his son and his wife, Viv, played by Dyan Cannon.

Viv, a one-time singer, used to go on tours with her husband but stopped to start a family. And now after 15 years of marriage, she feels threatened by his absence and wonders about his devotion to her.

Slim Pickens portrays the couples' good friend, and Buck's guitarist, Garland Ramsey. When he feels he's getting too old for all the traveling, his daughter Lily, played by Amy Irving, steps in to take his place.

A slow starting movie, the tempo picks up as the singing begins. We are introduced to the tough and sometimes lonely life of a musician on the bus and through the motel rooms. Nelson demonstrates that the crowds and the constant chaos of everyday living can leave one lonely and eventually alone. His love for his wife doesn't hold up as his eyes wander to his new guitarist.

Not packed with rough and tough action, "Honeysuckle Rose" is humorous, touching

Student Spotlight

By SUSAN POLK

One, two, . . . one, two, three! That exhilarating, toe-tapping music heard at the SWOSU football games comes from no other than "the pride of the great Southwest. . . The Bulldog Marching Band."

But when looking for one great leader on the field, look again. No, you're not seeing a public figure, there are two drum majors that lead the band at the Saturday night games.

Danny Hutson, Alva graduate assistant, and Terry Barbre, Moore senior, are the conductors in the field. During the week, the band directors take care of the rehearsals.

This is Danny's fifth year as drum major for Southwestern. He is also in charge of electronics, public address systems, recording, and directing the 3rd Jazz Ensemble.

This is Terry's second year as drum major for the Bulldog and after leading his high school band for three years. Another job of his includes directing the 145th Army National Guard Band.

Why are there two directors? There are around 175 band members and according to Terry, "Danny is the middle man, and I run around and make sure everyone is following him. I guess you could say, I'm the field director and he's more of the soap box director."

Most of their hobbies evolve around music. For instance, last Saturday at the Central State game, Danny mastered the synthesizer to the theme from "The Empire Strikes Back."

Terry likes to write music and says, "That's my goal. . . to be a top dog composer." He will also be doing his professional student teaching in Moore, but with a grin says, "I'll be coming back for the games."

Something that they are both really excited about is that the band will be going to New Orleans to march in the Superdome on Oct. 19. No matter what the outcome is in the game between the New Orleans Saints and the Atlanta Falcons, the Bulldog Marching Band is sure to be a winner.

Homecoming Outlined

Homecoming is right around the corner with the date of Saturday, Oct. 4. The theme for this year is "Rockin' in the Eighties."

The Homecoming Assembly will kick off the activities at 8 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 3, in the university gymnasium. The new queen will be crowned at this time.

A concert will be held on Friday evening featuring the Oklahoma Symphony. Advance tickets of $3.50 will be available at the Music Building or the Southwestern Music Company.

The Homecoming Parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 4. Parade entry forms may be picked up from Dean of Student Personnel Services office, A206. The forms must be returned by noon, Sept. 26. Prizes will be awarded for: first, $300 and a trophy; second, $200, and third, $100.

At 2 p.m. the Southwestern Bulldogs will meet Henderson State of Arkansas. Other activities throughout Homecoming will be a Student Senate-sponsored dance, an alumni luncheon, and residence hall decoration contests and receptions.

American Economists Find Jobs

Oklahoma State University is playing a major role in finding jobs for American economists. Each year the Southern Economic Association, which has its headquarters at OSU since 1970, sponsors a convention. The convention features a placement service operated by the host state's Department of Labor.

This year the convention will be held at the Washington Hilton in Washington, D.C., November 1-5. "Graduating students are encouraged to attend the convention and to use the placement service," says Dr. Joe Jadlow, secretary/treasurer of the association and OSU economist. "That's how many economists get their first jobs. It's how I got my position 13 years ago."

Many university economics departments, government agencies and private companies look for economists through the placement service. But job placement is only a small part of the convention activities.

Approximately 110 sessions are planned with three to four economists presenting papers in each. Overall, more than 1400 economists from colleges, industry and government will attend the sessions. Topics include inflation, unemployment, energy, monetary theory and policy, etc.

In addition to the convention, which Jadlow plans and organizes, the association offers half-price membership to students of economics. The membership includes a subscription to the quarterly Southern Economic Journal which is published jointly by the association and the University of North Carolina.

Students and economists wishing to learn more about the convention may call Jadlow at (405) 624-5195 or write him at the College of Business Administration, Stillwater, Okla. 74074.

Senate Year Begins

By KATHY PENNER

The first Student Senate meeting began with an introduction by Rocky Lee of the Student Association officers. These officers, elected last spring, are: president, Allen Swanda; vice-president, Rocky Lee; executive secretary, Mark Province; secretary, Terri Zachary; treasurer, Michelle Riley; and publicity, Kathy Penner.

The two faculty sponsors were introduced: Dr. Jim Hunsicker and Dr. Gary Tompkins.

A short election was held, and Mark Province was elected as vice-chairman of the Student Senate. He will officiate in the event that Rocky Lee is absent.

The Student Senate covered the Constitution as it pertained to absences by senators and their appointment of replacements and standins.

The rest of the meeting was spent in the assignment of committees. The committees and their chairmen are: Budget Appropriations, Kent Brown; Publicity, Kathy Penner; Blood Drive, O'Dellas Murrell; Activities Council, Jimmy Scott and Lee Walther; Homecoming Queen and Assembly, Michelle Riley and Cindy Ferguson; Homecoming Dance, Jimmy Scott and Lee Walther; Constitution, Terrill Ashby; Floats and Trophies, Rocky Lee; Cars for parade, Ricky Mathis and Scott Clevenger; Bulldog, Jimmy Scott.

The treasury report was given and contains $1,830.48. A formal comparative budget will be presented at the next formal meeting of the Student Senate.

The next meeting of the Student Senate will be Wednesday, Sept. 17, at 6 p.m. in the Skyview Room.

Kezer Discovers Problems for Soccer Team

Classified Ad

The soccer craze was started at Southwestern two years ago, by a group of foreign students and at that time were coached by Col. Thurgood. Last year the team's coach became Mr. Claude Kezer, professor of speech and theatre. Soon after Mr. Kezer took over the coaching position, he discovered a few major problems, such as, $55 per game for referees, $150 for league fees, all traveling expenses and uniforms. None of which, were funded by the school.

The team played 12 games, a few of their opponents were OU, OSU, OBU, AU, TU and Panhandle. Also, 15 other colleges in the state will be playing soccer in the fall season. When asked if there are any limitations in playing soccer as a team sport, Mr. Kezer replied, "Soccer is a sport that can answer the Title 9 question, because anyone can play."

Weatherford's little league soccer teams has increased from four teams in the first year to 21 teams in the second year. One of the little league teams also has the honor of having Mr. Kezer as their coach.

Finally when asked why he began to coach soccer, he said, "I haven't seen a little boy or girl yet, who hasn't wanted to kick a ball and chase it."

Bulldogs See Victory Fumbled Away

By TIM ALLEN

For the second consecutive week, the Southwestern Bulldog defense has paced and stood firm. Saturday night in a packed Milam Stadium the Bulldogs fumbled away a victory to the Central State Bronchos, the NAIA number one team, 18-16. The offensive unit fumbled the ball five times and lost four of them which were close to the goal line and quarterback Steve Price threw a pair of interceptions to add to the offensive struggle.

Central State managed only two lost fumbles and quarterback Scott Burger tossed two interceptions, but the Bronchos still managed to churn for 328 yards.

Three time second team All-American running back from Luther, Steve Tate, was the games only rusher to go into triple figures. He carried the ball 18 times for 166 yards including one touchdown. Clifford Chatman, fullback from Clinton, picked up 45 yards on 20 carries for the Bronchos.

Price led all Bulldog ball carriers and was the games second leading rusher with 67 yards on 19 carries and threw for an additional touchdown. The Edmond sophomore ran for one touchdown and threw to receiver Pat Lewis, Crescent junior, for the other score.

Myron Cook gained 53 yards on 13 carries for the 'Dogs. Joe Quinn, last week's ground leader, picked up 22 yards on 11 carries. James Johnson and Bryan Dalton were also in double figures for Southwestern.

On the receiving end, Lewis pulled down a pair of catches for 43 yards including a spectacular grab that gave the Bulldogs a 16-12 lead late in the game. Doug Miller caught one catch for 31 yards and Al Kilgore had one reception for 13 yards.

The kicking department was occupied by Carl Birdsong who was called on three times and booted the ball 128 total yards for a 42.7 average. Birdsong sailed one of his three punts for 57 yards pinning the Bronchos deep in their own territory.

Southwestern's defense is the one to be credited for their performance as they played an outstanding game. Ed Farmer led the 'Dogs in tackles with 12 unassisted and helped on three other occasions. Gary "Bull" Harper had eight solo tackles and three assists.

Jim Blake had 10 tackles, six unassisted and four assists, to help the Bulldogs in the secondary and hauled in one interception and returned it for 46 yards. Lee Washington had eight tackles for the night. Jimmy Franklin, Marty Leet, and Herbert Watson had four unassisted tackles each and three assists. Watson added one quarterback sack and Franklin recovered a Broncho fumble. David Thompkins also had a good night for Southwestern as he recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass to add to his total of five tackles.

Southwestern won the toss and elected to receive with the visiting Bronchos defending the south goal. The opening kick off sailed into the end zone and the Bulldogs began their first possession at their own 20-yard line.

After being stopped on their first series and forced to punt, Central State took over at their own 42-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Clifford Chatman carried the ball and fumbled with David Thompkins of Southwestern recovering it.

Myron Cook broke a 14-yard run on the Bulldogs first play of the series. Southwestern used six plays before they were stalled at the Central State seven-yard line. Tom Middlebrooks came in the game for coach Bob Mazie's Bulldogs to attempt a field goal and with 8:10 showing on the clock, the ball went through the up rights and Southwestern had the first lead, 3-0.

Central State took advantage of a Bulldog fumble to grab their first score. With 2:02 left in the first quarter Myron Cook fumbled at Southwestern's own two yard line and Central State recovered. On their second down attempt, Clifford Chatman carried the ball and fumbled for his second time of the night and Bulldog Jimmy Franklin came up with the ball.

Cook carried the ball on first down for Southwestern trying to get them out of the hole, but a tough Broncho defense pushed

GOOD NEWS FOR FIRST NATIONAL BANK CUSTOMERS!!!

On January 1, 1981, present laws will be changed and we will be able to pay interest on checking accounts for individuals, organizations, and trust accounts.

The banking regulators have not made a final decision on the exact interest rate to be allowed, but we expect it to be 5% or greater. The terms will be announced by us as soon as possible.

All of the present types of checking, savings, and certificates of deposit accounts will still be available; and you will have the option of choosing which types of accounts you prefer.

More good news -- our Check-O-Card drive-in center should be finished and available to our bank customers before the first of the year. It will be located on North Washington and provide banking services night and day, seven days a week. The good news is that this additional bank service will be provided to you at no cost.

We are proud to have you as our banking customer. Our goal is to provide you with these new and modern services as quickly and efficiently as possible.

Sincerely,

Don M. Kelley

Intramural Football Changed From Past

Last Monday marked the beginning of men's intramural football season at the ROTC ball field with new men's intramurals coordinator, Coach Gary Kueck and director Char-Queen running the show. This year the system is set a little different than in the past. Instead of having a fraternity and an independent league, there will be four separate leagues with the top two teams in each division making it to the single elimination tournament, but only one team will survive to become the champion. The Pokes will be back again to try to defend their last year's championship.

Coach Kueck would like to make a special request to all team members, "Remember all referees are just beginners, not professionals. Please give them your total respect when a call is made, even though you may disagree."

Results of this week's games will be in the next edition of THE SOUTHWESTERN.

Fumbles Give Bronchos the Breaks

him back for a yard loss. Joe Quinn took the hand off on second down and fumbled with Central State recovering at the one-inch line.

This was the time the Bulldog defense showed the people they could stop anyone. Burger tried a sneak on first down and was shut off and Chatman was stopped on his second down attempt as the quarter ended. On the first down of the second quarter, Chatman dived over the goal line for the score. Jeff Jones bobbled the snap on the extra-point attempt and it failed; the Bronchos had the lead 6-3.

With just over seven minutes left in the first half, Middlebrooks attempted a 45-yard field goal and it sailed to the left of the up rights, but a roughing the kicker penalty moved the ball up to the 13-yard line of Central State giving the Bulldogs a first and 10. A fumble on first down turned the ball over again as Broncho Mike Ciskowski recovered the ball at their 17-yard line.

Central State started a drive late in the second quarter and with nine seconds left in the half, Burger threw a long pass and offensive interference was called ending the half.

Central State took their first possession of the second half and scored with just 3:41 gone. The Bronchos used eight plays on a 73-yard march and scored on a 40-yard pass from Burger to Willie Henderson. Once more the 'Dog defense stood tough and the Bronchos failed on their extra-point.

Southwestern started a drive with 4:46 left in the third quarter and used a combination of running and passing to move the ball down the field in 10 plays to score. The big play of the drive was when Steve Price fired the ball to Lewis for a 33-yard reception and then turned around on the next play and found Kilgore for a 13-yard gain. Price rolled around the right side for a five-yard touchdown with 1:07 left in the quarter. Middlebrooks extra-point attempt went wide left and the Bulldogs were just a field goal away.

Jim Blake became a hero for a moment late in the third quarter when he picked off a Burger pass and ran it back from the Central State 37 to the 17-yard line of the Bronchos.

Five plays later, Price found a seam in the Broncho secondary and rifled the ball to Pat Lewis in the end zone who made a great catch to give the Bulldogs the lead 15-12. Middlebrooks added the extra-point to the score and the Bulldogs had the score turned around, but only for a brief time.

After Birdsong kicked off to the visitors, they took the ball 80-yards in 11 plays to retake the lead 18-16. Southwestern was still not out of the game as Central State had the ball on their next series in a fourth and two situation and the Bulldogs called time out with :47 showing on the clock.

Burger punted the ball and it rolled dead at the Central State 20-yard line. Price attempted a pass with :36 left, but it fell incomplete. On second down and 10, Price went to the air again, but this time Bronchos cornerback Kem Pipkin intercepted the ball to put the lid on the contest for the Central State with just :29 left.

Burger fell on the ball on their final possession and the Bronchos let the clock run out and grabbed the hard-fought and error-filled victory.

The loss evened the Bulldogs record at 1-1 and they will travel to Goodwell this Saturday night to play the Panhandle Aggies.

The Baptist Student Union will present the film "Heavenly Deception" at Vespers, Thursday, Sept. 18, at 7 p.m. This is the story of Chris Elkins' journey from the college campus to the inner workings of the Unification Church.

Although raised in a Christian family and attending church regularly, Chris never grew in his faith. He still had questions.

Then one day in college, Chris met a man, someone who seemed to have all the answers; a man who directed him to a church of love, care, and concern—a church of unification. Chris became a "Moonie."

But it wasn't long before he sensed something wrong, a sort of deception, a Heavenly Deception, where the end justified the means. A standard that was promoted and encouraged within the Unification Church—from the kids selling flowers on the street corners all the way to the highest echelon.

There is no admission charge for the film but early arrival is encouraged to secure a seat.

Kathy Rhodes, OCU Law School, will be interviewing Senior Pre-Law students on Tuesday, Sept. 23, from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Skyview Room.

All students interested are to sign up in the Placement Office by 3:30 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 22.

The Student Education Association will have a meeting on Oct. 7 at 6 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. The topic covered will be "What is SEA?" along with a SOEA Convention Boost. All those interested are urged to ask Dr. Ludrick about how to join as soon as possible.

WANTED: A person willing to put in approximately 20 hours of secretarial work for the Student Association. This position would be temporary and will terminate when the work is finished. All interested call the Student Association office, Ext. 4666.

The English Club will have a Pizza Party for all present and prospective members on Thursday, Sept. 18, at the home of Prof. Ted Pyle. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m., and free pizza and drinks will be provided.

Would you like a weekend of enjoyment and fellowship with your friends, while relaxing by the lake? If this sounds good, sign up for the Fall Retreat sponsored by the Baptist Student Union. The weekend retreat will be Sept. 19-20 at Lake Altus. This retreat is open to anyone. For more information call the BSU at 772-2377.

New officers for the 1980-81 Art Guild are: Lynette Hill, president; Marcy Jones, vice-president; and Katie Suther, secretary-treasurer.

Michael Fox, an instructor in the Department of Music, presented a French horn faculty recital recently.

Other music faculty members assisting included Linda Faye Casey, at the piano; Dr. Ken Snyder, trumpet; and Robert Chambers, trombone.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia provided ushers for the program. Recital selections included "Horn-Lokk," by Sigurd Berge; "Concerto No. 2 in E-sharp," W. A. Mozart; "Sonata," Francis Poulenc; and "Sonata," Peter Jona Korn.

Student Directs Play

By LUIS GRUNTMEIR

You'd like to take your girl to something special but the bank didn't approve your loan so you could take her to Oklahoma City, right? Then how about a short trip to Clinton to see the hit comedy "Life With Father" showing at the Southwest Playhouse, Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

The play, adapted by Howard Langley and Russell Crouse from Clarence Day's book Life With Father, is set in New York in 1888 and concerns the problems of the Day household when Mother discovers that Father is not baptized and then proceeds to make sure he is whether he wants it or not.

The play is the longest running play on Broadway with 3000-plus performances which is second only to "Fiddler on the Roof" in total number of performances.

The production will be directed by Jeff Cherrington, senior theatre major, and helping as assistant director, Sheri Shennold, graduate student.

Cherrington, who has done extensive work on the SWOSU stage as well as some theatre work in Texas, has little time to himself as he spends 35-40 hours a week directing, carries a 17 hour schedule, and then plays the lead in the upcoming play "Dracula."

Cherrington is glad to have the opportunity to direct outside the university theatre, and this job gives him a taste of professional theatre as he gets paid $400 for the undertaking.

Those interested in directing a play should present a resume to the Southwest Playhouse in Clinton.

Opening night for "Life With Father" is Saturday, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. with additional performances on Sunday, Sept. 21, at 2 p.m. and Monday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m. Those interested in reservations should call the Southwest Playhouse from 1-4 p.m. at 323-4448. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2 for children.

DROOL GNASH

What does this phrase do for you?

A FRESH-CRUSTED, THICK-CHEESED, EXTRA-SAUCEY HOT PIZZA.

ARE YOU:

Gnashing your teeth?

Drooling?

Gnawing on your arm?

Growling?

Rending your clothes asunder?

If answer is yes to any or all of the above, proceed to madly tear out this coupon (while maniacally repeating "fresh-crusted, thick-cheeased, extra-saucy" to the great annoyance of your roommate) and trip, stumble and/or fall to the nearest or farthest Pizza Hut, whichever you prefer.
