Oklahoma Memories

— Mike McCarville

Westview readers will love this book.

It's the history of Oklahoma, reported by 27 Oklahomans who witnessed the state's history when it wasn't history at all but the daily events of their lives.

The book is evocative of Norman novelist Jack Bickham's nostalgic works; the lines dance and sing and remind us of a time when a Sunday baseball game was the big attraction, as chronicled by George Levite's remembrance, "At the Old Ball Game."

There's a little bit here for all, and we're the better for it. Buy it, read it carefully. When you put it down, you'll nod to yourself, as I did, and say, "Well done."

Which it is.

Available from OU Press in Norman.

What would happen if
Mars and Venus
Fell in love?
Would wars end or
Love die?

WAR'S EFFECT

— Marge Cooke Porteus

Mars got in my way.
I was searching, but
All the young, bright men
Were gone.
For a time I became a
Grinch, saying petals
And eating persimmons.
